Membership of the Organization

1 Since the 109th session of the Council, in November 2012, there has been no change in the membership of the Organization, which continues to stand at 170. There has also been no change in the number of Associate Members, which continues to stand at three.

2 The Council will recall the decision, taken at its ninety-third session, to discontinue the practice of listing the whole membership of the Organization at each Council session, in an annex to this document except for the last regular session of the Council preceding a regular session of the Assembly. Accordingly, a list of Members of the Organization, including the three Associate Members, as at 17 May 2013, is given in the annex to this document. Any change in the membership, which may occur before the beginning of the session, will be reported to the Council in an appropriate manner.

3 The Council will further recall that three States, the Federated States of Micronesia, the Lao People's Democratic Republic and Niue, have all expressed an interest in joining the Organization and, in this regard, have been provided with the relevant information. Since both the Federated States of Micronesia and the Lao People's Democratic Republic are Members of the United Nations, they may, pursuant to Article 5 of the IMO Convention, become Members of the Organization by depositing the requisite instrument of acceptance of the Convention with the Secretary-General of the United Nations, in accordance with the provisions of Article 76. As regards Niue, since it is not a Member of the United Nations, its application falls under the provisions of Article 7 of the IMO Convention, which requires approval by two thirds of the IMO membership, other than Associate Members. No formal application for membership has, as yet, been received from any of these three States.

4 Any further developments in this regard will be reported to the Council, as appropriate.

Action requested of the Council

5 The Council is invited to take note of the information provided in this document and to comment or decide, as appropriate.
